

Trainees and apprentices

Trainees and apprentices have to manage their training while working full time. Group Training Companies help this process by connecting all the dots on the employee's behalf.

Keeping you connected

We ensure all these dots are doing their best to serve you and the host company, so you can get the best training available. If a connection with one of these dots breaks down we're there to fix it.

